Interesting matter, original or selected, may always be found on the first page.

BUTTER MARKET.—The ruling prices to-day for butter have been from 30 to 33 cents per pound. As high as 32 and 33 cents were, however, paid for some dairies. There were shipped 1467 tubs of butter, and 4255 pounds of cheese, net weight.

KILLED.—A man named John Gardner, aged about 35 years, was killed by the cars at St. Albans depot on Monday night. He was one of a gang of men hired in Montreal to work on the Woodstock railroad, and was on his way to Woodstock at the time of the accident. The man who had hired him was up town at the time the 8 o'clock train started south, hunting up men who had strayed away, and as he had the tickets Gardner did not try to get upon the train until he saw the boss coming down Lake Street. Then he sprang for the train, which was under way, and was just outside the depot. He caught hold of the platform railing, but the train was under such headway that he could not get aboard and striking a gravel heap near the track he was hurled under the cars, and had his right leg smashed, below the knee, the toes of his left foot cut off, and the whole of his left arm crushed. He also sustained internal injuries of a serious character. He was carried into a room in the depot, and care for as well as could be by Dr. Clark, and employees about the depot. He did not rally sufficiently to admit of the amputation of his limbs, and died at 12 o'clock at night. Gardner had been a soldier in the British army, and we believe leaves a wife in Montreal. His remains were placed in a good coffin, and temporarily buried by the employees of the railroad company here to-day, at the expense of the company.

In view of the frequent accidents by starting trains, we ask, why will not the people be more careful of their lives, and not put their lives into the balance against the contingency of securing a start by a certain train? All the precautions that are necessary and possible are taken by the railroad company, and by Mr. Stone, the careful agent here, and still it is a wonder with the risks which many take, that more are not killed even in St. Albans depot.

THE DUST. to-day has had its own way, and has fully tried the patience of the store keepers and others on Lake, Main and Bank Streets. The sprinkler which has heretofore been effectual in laying the dust has not made its appearance, for the reason that the Fire Department, who have charge of the public wells, refuse to allow any more water to be taken from them for the present. How long long this state of things is to last we are unable to state; we hope, however, not long. More wells should be dug at once; there cannot be too many of them.

ALBANY SPRINGS.—We have heretofore noticed the sale of the "Merritt House" and spring at Albany Springs. We since learn that the purchasers are two brothers named Severance, of Middlebury, Vt., and that they paid for the house, spring, and six acres of land, $8,500. This may be considered a very low price, as $10,000 has been offered by a responsible party in New York for one half of another spring near the one just purchased by the Messrs. Severance, which sum has been refused. The spring for which the above named offer was made is the property of Mr. Beardsley, of Albany Springs, and its water is very strong. An analysis will soon be made of this water.

The business of bottling water is going on briskly at the Springs, though the bottling house is not yet completed. The fourth car load of water was being put up for the New York market on Monday last. The house belonging with the Spring property is not now open, and it is not certain that it will be this season; but the Mansion House, kept by Mr. Chauncey Smith, is in good trim, is clean, cool and commodious, and has already commenced to receive summer visitors. Mr. Smith has pleasant and well kept grounds, a fine garden, suggestive of good dinners at least, and we judge the Mansion is an excellent place to rusticate in, through, and about.

It may not be uninteresting to the general reader to note that a cluster of original and Simon-pure Democrats may be found at the Springs, and that a pretty strong game of chess can be got up there, on a rainy day. The Springs is a good place for health, contemplation, and that game of thinkers, chess.

A GOOD EXAMPLE.—By a notice in our columns it will be seen that Mr. Ragin's Crystal Billiard Saloon will be kept closed on the 4th. As the 4th is the day upon which people are disposed to "celebrate," too loudly, the example of the Crystal is worthy of imitation, to the extent of great care about the distribution of "fluids," at least.

WATER WHEEL.—"Quidam" asks a very silly question. The work of removing the bill board was evidently not the work of boys, because boys are not ordinarily sufficiently strong to remove such an amount of timber. I incline to the opinion that "Quidam" was himself personally present when the work was going on, or was instrumental in having it done.

FROM ONE OF THE POLICE. I saw in the columns of your paper last night that Mr. Thomas Failey was to act as Chief of Police on the 4th of July. I am told that he was elected to that office by Mr. L. J. Swift. I wish to ask by what authority Mr. Swift has for making Mr. Failey Chief of Police. If there is no man in the Police force that Mr. Swift has confidence in, I think he had better disband them entirely and appoint a new board, (that is if he has a right to do so.)

That Bill-Board Again.

EDITORS TRANSCRIPT: The following billboards communication appears in the Messenger of last evening:

How does "Water Wheel" know that it was men not boys who removed it? Now he either knows or does not know. If he knows that men did it—he knows what men, and is an equal criminal with the perpetrators if he fails to disclose his principals. If he does not know, his entire communication is senseless—and the apologists for this communication may now take whichever horn of the dilemma they please—either to cover up an acknowledged wrong doer, or give place to a senseless tirade, for unless Water Wheel knows what men did it, his last sentence, might as well read, "It is very language stirred up able bodied women, not boys to do the disgraceful work."
